WHY: CNPI is an innovative neighborhood policing model whose main goal is to build trust between CPD and the residents of Chicago, neighborhood by neighborhood. CNPI hopes to create positive police contact with the public - ultimately creating stronger bonds with the citizens who live and work in the area. As part of their mission, the CNPI community engagement team regularly hosts events to give CNPI DCOs the opportunity to hear directly from community members about chronic public-safety concerns and begin the process of co-developing ideas to make the neighborhood safer. Events like the Spooktacular Trunk-or-Treat event create a safe space for families to come together, engage with their community and the CNPI DCOs, and take back public spaces in their neighborhood.

About the Chicago Neighborhood Policing Initiative: Chicago NPI is an intensive neighborhood-based policing philosophy that emphasizes relationship-building and focuses on the top priorities of community members. To learn more about CNPI go to <https://chicagonpi.org>.
